

About this Student Budgeting Worksheet

Page 1

This budgeting worksheet is brought to you by SayStudent.com, your online source for student financial aid information and products. We invite you to use this worksheet to keep track of your financing and spending costs to avoid shortfalls and excessive debt.

How to Use This Spreadsheet:

First:	Enter your college start-up costs. These are one-time costs that are required to begin school like tuition, books, student fees, and housing if you are planning to live on-campus. Enter by each line item your estimated costs. go to Page 2
Second:	Next, enter your start-up funding sources. These are one-time funding amounts that are provided to pay for start-up costs. These include scholarships, grants, student loans, and any other lump-sum amounts. Note that each line item comes from data that you will enter by clicking the link to the worksheet. These worksheets record data that rolls up to Funding sheet. go to Page 3
Third:	You are now ready to go to school. But, you will have monthly living expenses and monthly income sources. Your goal is to have enough sources to pay for all related expenses. You can enter your income and costs by month. go to monthly income worksheet: Page 6 go to monthly expense worksheet: Page 7
Fourth:	You can roll everything up to this summary sheet for a quick view. Analyze your position. This summary sheet will show you your financial position to avoid running out of money. go to summary sheet: Page 20

How Else to Use this Spreadsheet

Budgeting:	You can plan ahead once you know your monthly costs to determine if you have enough money for the academic year. Simply add data in the monthly worksheets to estimate your income and expenses: Pages 8-19
Listing:	You can keep a list of your student loan information. This will be valuable as you will need this information when you consolidate your student loans after you graduate: Page 5
