First Thing, Make Sure You Complete Your Off-to-College Tasks

If you are going to college, make sure you complete and submit the required documents.

Deadlines include essay and application submissions, college visits, housing selection, and gathering those things for the move.

Our quick calendar of events can help: www.OfftoCollege.com

---

How Much Is It Going to Cost

Depends on where you are going view our quick table of estimated costs: see quick reviews at www.SayStudent.com

Costs include tuition, housing, books, transportation and more: view expected college costs (aid step 1)

TIP: print our tally sheet to keep tabs on cost and the available aid that you get

Where is the Money Coming From

$135 Billion dollars were disbursed last year (2008) in financial aid for students. The largest percentage was federal loans.

Federal Loans	51%	$68.6
Institutional Grants	18%	$24.4
Federal Pell Grants	9%	$12.7
Private & Employer Grants	7%	$9.3
State Grants	5%	$6.8
Education Tax Benefits	4%	$6.0
Other Federal Programs	4%	$5.3
Federal Campus Based	2%	$3.1
Total	100%	$135 billion

These are just some of the sources of financial aid. Other aid for college includes:

- scholarships
- campus aid
- private student aid and loans
- EFC

What is EFC

EFC is the Expected Family Contribution for higher education. In other words, financial aid is awarded based on a formula that calculates the total cost of attending school and the expected family contribution to that cost.

We have more information about EFC: see quick reviews at www.SayStudent.com

Do You Qualify for Financial Aid

Before you start the financial aid process, you must qualify as either a dependant or independent student.

Review qualifications:

Go to Financial Aid Step 1: see quick reviews at www.SayStudent.com

Understand the Financial Aid Process

First comes the FAFSA form, then the SAR, and then the Financial Aid letter from your school.

Link to our Financial Aid Steps to view the process:

Go to Financial Aid Steps: see quick reviews at www.SayStudent.com

FAFSA Submission

Almost all financial aid begins with your filing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

This form is required for all Federal Student Loans and many college aid programs, including some scholarships. You can file the FAFSA form starting in January for the upcoming Fall academic year.

What you will need to file:

- tax returns
- W-2 forms
- bank statements
- Social Security and VA Benefits, if any

Check with Your Financial Aid Office

Your school's financial aid office is the control center for student financial aid.

Talk with your college's financial aid office to see how they can help. Be prepared to ask questions such as:

1. What are the filing deadlines?
2. What forms are required?
3. What percentage of the college costs is covered by the financial aid package?
4. Can the award package be negotiated?

Connect to your schools web site for the aid office: see tools at www.SayStudent.com

Start Searching for Scholarship Money

Scholarship awards can go fast, so start early — usually in the Fall prior to the start of your college year.

Check your field of study, ethnic background, social and religious affiliations, parent's employment, family club memberships, and local businesses and clubs:

Home Equity Loans

Parents or students with equity value in their home can use home equity loan to pay for college. Funds can be borrowed as they are needed — not all at once under most other loan programs.

For more information: see money for college at www.SayStudent.com

Use the Banker Home Equity Line of Credit (BLOC)

Parents or students with steady working income can use the BLOC to manage their money and fund education expenses. The program benefits those with positive discretionary income that helps to keep funding costs low.
